CHINESE PLANES DROP BOMBS AT BRITISH WARSHIP

NURMI'S RECORD

New Marathon Figures.
REPLY TO CRITICS.
In Splendid Condition for Los Angeles.

Helsingfors, Yesterday. Paavo Nurmi, the "Flying Finn," today showed the critics that he is by no means a back number, though having reached the veteran stage. In an Olympic Trial here today he covered the Marathon distance of 25 miles in 2 hours 22 minutes and 4 seconds, thus beating H. Green's 1913 record by 7 minutes 25.2/5 seconds.—Reuter.

Green was the English long distance runner who covered 2 miles 562 yards after two hours' running to record world's figures for this period of time on the Stanford Bridge track in 1913. A year later R. Bridge covered 15 miles 601 yards after two hours continuous walking.

Nurmi, who is training to the best of his ability for the Marathon at Los Angeles in August, is in magnificent fettle at the moment. To win the Olympic Marathon has been his greatest ambition. Just recently three of his former world records was shattered—Lauri Lehtinen lowering the Three Miles and 5,000-Metres figures, whilst Kusocynski, the Polish athlete, smashed his 3,000-Metres record—but his heart is in his work, and it is considered very possible that he will regain at least one of those records in Olympic Trials or even at the Olympiad itself.

The famous Finn now holds the following records:—

Four Miles—19 mins. 8.7/10 secs. in 1924.
Five Miles—24 mins. 6.1/5 secs. in 1924.
Six Miles—29 mins. 36.2/5 secs. in 1930.
Ten Miles—50 mins. 15 secs. in 1925.
Twenty-five Miles—2 hrs. 22 mins. 4 secs. in 1932.
10,000-Metres—30 mins. 6.1/5 secs. in 1929.

STEVE DONOGHUE SECOND.

In French Prix at Longchamps..

THRILLING FINISH.

Longchamp, Yesterday.

Steve Donoghue, the famous English jockey, was narrowly beaten when riding Lord Derby's Satrap in the French Grand Prix here today.

A. J. Duggan's Strip the Willow coming up the straight with a very small lead just succeeded in maintaining the pace to win by a short head.

Baron de Rothschild's Foghorn was third in a field of twenty.—Reuter.

CLOUDY—SHOWERY.

The weather report issued by the Royal Observatory at 10.40 a.m. to-day, states:—

The depression has moved into the Eastern Sea. Forecast: South-west winds, moderate; cloud, showers.

One case of meningitis from Kowloon is the only notifiable disease shown for the 48 hours ending June 24.

BRITISH ACTIVITIES IN CHINA

FINANCIAL TIMES ISSUES SPECIAL SUPPLEMENT

AIMS AT EXPANSION

London, To-day.

Aiming at showing British activities in China, with the view to their expansion, the Financial Times has issued a 36-page Supplement reviewing the conditions and prospects in China and Hong Kong.

Editorially, it says that the forces which must be relied upon to integrate China psychologically are akin to those lying behind her banking, industrial, and trade developments.

It suggests that it would be very wise to minimise the inconvenience of these economic changes and influence their reactions by taking advantage of the opportunities they offer for co-operation in local and general questions, such as the administration of the International Settlement in Shanghai and the modifying of extraterritoriality.

It observes that the Japanese withdrawal of her troops places the mediating Powers in general, and Great Britain particularly, in a position to take the initiative. Concurrently, it increases the feasibility of the suggestion that the technical resources of the League of Nations should be enlisted for the service of China.—Reuter.

POLICE TAKES CUSTOMS.

19 Surround Office in Harbin.

ONE JAPANESE DISAPPEARS.

Held No Authority.

Harbin, Yesterday.

At midnight last night the Customs House was surrounded by police, nineteen of whom entered and took possession. One of the police was Japanese, three were Russian and fifteen Chinese.

At the time the Customs House was closed. The Commissioner, Mr. Prettejohn, was informed and went to the Customs. He asked the intruders for their authority for being there. Being unable to produce this, the Japanese disappeared.

The position to-day is unchanged, the Commissioner discussing the affair with a Japanese official.

Mr. Prettejohn has issued a statement saying that he and his staff will remain loyal to the Chinese Customs Service, in spite of offers and disloyal suggestions made to them.—Reuter.

MOTOR HORN USED FOR MUSIC.

Rangoon Native's Queer Claim in Court.

MAGISTRATE'S HUMOUR.

It was stated in a case heard by Mr. Schofield in the Central Police Court this morning, that the defendant, a native of Rangoon, named Ali, had claimed that he used a motor horn for his musical performances in the streets.

All was charged with the unlawful possession of the horn, and stated that a friend gave it to him to sell, the spoils of which were to be divided.

Detective-Sergeant Kinnear stated that a message had been submitted to all Police Stations, but there had been no claim made for the horn, which was a Lucas, and was (Continued on Page 10.)

CAT OUT OF THE BAG.

Man Who Had Opium in His Mouth.

REFUSED TO SPEAK!

Arrested along the praya yesterday, an elderly Chinese man was taken to the Revenue Department Offices, where he refused to speak. After a few minutes he extracted from his mouth a small balloon, which was found to contain opium. Two other similar balloons were discovered in each of his shoes.

The man appeared before Mr. Schofield in the Central Police Court this morning, when he pleaded guilty to the unlawful possession of two and-a-half tael of illicit opium. Defendant stated that a friend gave him the opium to carry.

His Worship—Is it usual for you to carry things in your mouth? You are not a dog, you know. Defendant admitted two previous convictions when he served short terms in 1907 and 1911, and was fined $175 with the alternative of two months' hard labour.

Pleads Foolishness. When charged with the possession of 27 tael of the illicit drug, a Chinese woman pleaded foolishness. She was fined $800 or four months' jail in default.

SPANISH AIRMAN'S PREDICAMENT.

Problem of Last Lap.

BARRED FROM FORMOSA.

Possessor of an aeroplane, but with no place to fly to, is the curious position in which Senior Rein y Loring has found himself.

Senior Loring, who is attempting to fly to Manila from Madrid, has been in the Colony for some considerable time, and is faced with the difficult problem of how to complete the last lap of his flight.

On one hand he is faced with weather conditions that would make a long flight over the sea practically impossible, while, on (Continued on Page 10.)

RACE-GOERS REJOICE ON LEAVING SHAO.

European Dives Offboard But Reaches Wharf Safely.

Local racing enthusiasts who left Macao yesterday afternoon by the Shao Shan received a thrill when a European dived overboard as the steamer was leaving the wharf. Apparently he had not heard the warning gongs for departure, and was only able to get ashore by swimming the twenty yards to the wharf without mishap and was at once the centre of a huge crowd of Chinese who were attracted to the scene by shouts from the Tai Shan.

This is considered a common occurrence and the steamer did not delay her sailing time, and proceeded as if nothing had happened.

The Tai Shan, yesterday, carried a huge complement of passengers, and must have recorded new figures for the voyage. A jazz band helped to while away the time, but the decks were too crowded to allow for much dancing.

CHICAGO FORCED TO A DRIFT.

Brooklyn Beat New York by 5-2.

AMERICAN BASEBALL RESULTS.

New York, Yesterday. The Chicago Cubs, leaders in the National League, broke even with the St. Louis Cardinals in their double header to-day, thus winning one of their three encounters with the World Champions over the week-end. Boston also shared the spoils in their double header against the Phillies.

Brooklyn Dodgers caused a mild sensation when they out-slugged the New York Giants by 5-2, whilst the Pittsburgh Pirates advanced to second place in the table as the result of a double win over the Cincinnati Reds.

In the American League the Yankees defeated the Athletics by 6-2 to increase their lead, whilst Detroit Tigers beat the Chicago White Sox by 5-1 to follow on the heels of the leaders. Washington Senators registered a win, but the Cleveland Indians could only break even with the St. Louis Browns in their double header.

SOLDIERS' DRINKING ORGY.

Two Borderers Jailed.

DRANK BOTTLES OF BEER.

Previous Conviction Against One Man.

Private Clogg and Private A. Shorhouse, both of the South Wales Borderers, who raided the Kowloon GOLF Clubhouse, at Kowloon City and held a drinking orgy on Friday night, appeared before Mr. Fraser in the Kowloon Police Court this morning.

They were charged with the larceny of 12 bottles of beer, two bottles of orange squash, four glasses of whisky, four bars of chocolate, 12 packets of cigarettes and a number of cigars. Both men pleaded guilty. Sergeant Butcher prosecuted.

It was alleged that the defendants went to the Golf Club and started to help themselves to drinks, during which time they prevented the "boy" from attempting to telephone for the Police. After the men had drunk themselves into a stupor, the "boy" managed to telephone. The Police arrived and arrested them.

A previous conviction against Clogg for malicious damage to a car in England was proved, and he was sentenced to four months' hard labour.

NEW COMMODORE APPOINTED.

Captain E. M.W. Lawrie.

CAPT. WALKER GOING HOME.

Captain A. H. Walker, O.B.E., who has held the command of Commodore of Hong Kong since 1930, is to be succeeded by Captain Edward McConnell Wyndham Lawrie, D.S.O., according to advice from the Admiralty. Captain Lawrie, who saw service during the war, was promoted to his present rank on December 31, 1923. He was mentioned in dispatches, receiving his D.S.O. in 1919.

He commanded the destroyer depot ship in the Mediterranean and was also in command of the H.M.S. Comus, of the second cruiser squadron, Mediterranean Fleet.

BRITISH FLEET FOR WEI-HAI-WEI.

Cornwall Leaves on July 1.

H.M.S. Cornwall is due to leave for Wei-hai-wei on July 1. Her movement is in connection with the annual practice of the British Navy, spending the summer months up North.

H.M. destroyers Veteran and Wild Swan are also proceeding to Wei-hai-wei, and they are due to sail to-morrow.

The next fortnight will see the congregation at Wei-hai-wei of the British Fleet, with the exception of those vessels detailed for necessary patrol duties.

Ships which are already at Wei-hai-wei are H.M.S. Kent, H.M.S. Harmer, a few of the destroyers, and H.M.S. Bruce and submarines. The American Asiatic Fleet, as usual, will remain at Chefoo.

SENSATIONAL ATTACK NEAR CANTON

SIX BOMBS FALL CLOSE TO H.M.S. MOORHEN

MISTAKEN FOR A CHAN CHAK SHIP

REBEL GUNBOATS CHASED INTO HONG KONG HARBOUR.

The revolt in Canton, in which Admiral Chan Chak's fleet questioned the authority of the Government, nearly caused an international affair yesterday, when the safety of a British gunboat, H.M.S. Moorhen, was endangered.

Aeroplanes from Canton which were out looking for the rebel fleet, mistook Moorhen for one of Admiral Chan Chak's vessels and dropped bombs near her. Subsequently they discovered their mistake and flew off.

Fortunately the Moorhen was not hit, or the incident might have taken a serious turn.

An official statement issued by the Naval Intelligence Office this morning merely touched upon the bare facts. It was as follows:—

"At 1.20 p.m. on the 26th H.M.S. Moorhen, having been dropped in close proximity to (Continued on Page 10.)

"She was apparently mistaken for one of Admiral Chan Chak's gunboats, and this is supported by the fact that later on another British gunboat observed the Chinese gunboat Chungshan being attacked by aeroplanes in the vicinity of Sau Chan Island."

VISIT TO CASTLE PEAK RAY.

There was considerable speculation in Hong Kong yesterday when two Chinese gunboats were seen in the afternoon in the vicinity of Castle Peak. It was stated by observers that British vessels appeared off Castle Peak soon after the arrival of the Chinese ships and turned them away.

The Royal Navy's version of this, like that of the bombing of H.M.S. Moorhen, was brief, and no mention was made of the presence of British craft off Castle Peak.

CAME HERE TO COAL.

The statement was as follows:—

"The Chinese gunboats Chungshan and Chapsun, proceeded to Castle Peak Bay to coal, and later, between 7 and 9, smaller Chinese gunboats anchored in Hong Kong harbour."

No mention was made as to whether the Chungshan and Chapsun entered the harbour. The smaller Chinese gunboats were not in harbour this morning, and have apparently slipped out under cover of night to some unknown destination to escape the attention of the bombing planes.

A CHINESE VERSION.

From a local Chinese source comes the story that the bombing planes from Canton chased the rebel fleet until they entered British territorial waters for refuge, when the planes turned back and returned to Canton.

This story has it that Admiral Chan Chak's fleet have now proceeded to a bay in Chinese waters near Hong Kong where they will be comparatively safe as they will be able to scurry into British waters as soon as the planes from Canton are sighted.

H.M.S. MOORHEN.

H.M.S. Moorhen, which received such unwelcome attention from the Canton planes, is under the command of Lieut.-Comdr. R. W. Wainwright, R.N. She is a shallow draught gunboat of 180 tons built specially for river service and is armed with two 6-inch guns which are of little use against attack from the air. She has been in service on the China Station for a number of years and is due to be replaced shortly, when she will either be sold or scrapped.

Although she is a shallow vessel which appears very squat on the water, H.M.S. Moorhen has the appearance of a gunboat and would be easily identified as such from the air because of her exposed guns. It is the circumstance that the Chinese gunboats took her for one of Admiral Chan Chak's vessels is not surprising.

ROUND HONG KONG'S
CINEMA THEATRESOFFICIAL SOURCES.*"THE MAGNIFICENT LIE."Ruth Chatterton, who has contributed at least four of the outstanding screen dramas of the past two years, comes to the fore again with a picture that rivals for dramatic greatness "Sarah and Son." "Anybody's Woman," "The Right to Love" or "Unfaithful." It is "The Magnificent Lie," which is now showing at the King's Theatre.
"The Magnificent Lie," based on the novel by Leonard Merrick,
"Laurels and the Lady," presents
Miss Chatterton as a New Orleans cane singer, a charming person who deals lightly with life and men. A laughing wagger that she can impersonate a famous French actress, at that moment the toast of New Orleans, leads her to impose upon Ralph Bellamy, a sincere young lumberman.Ralph Bellamy, who supports Chatterton in "The Magnificent Lie" is well known the country-over as a stock player. Recently he played leading roles in successful
New York productions and he is now on Paramount's featured list, considered by picture executives to be a new male screen "find." He is young handsome and talented.
The picture, which was directed by the celebrated European stage director and playwright, BerthodVierte, includes in its cast Stuart Erwin, playing his first dramatic role, Sam Hardy, and a pair of players popular on the Parisian stage, Francoise Rosay and Charles Boyer."STRANGERS IN LOVE."As a direct result of Fredric March's new dual role in the Paramount production, "Strangers in Love," coming to the King's Theatre next Wednesday, his father received and unusual remembrance which now occupies a favoured spot in the heart and home of the elder March.It all happened when March, junior, decided that no one better than his own father could play his screen father in this picture, particularly since that cast requirements for this part called for only some action centered about a portrait.March got together several photographs of his father and gave them to Harry Barnsdollar, artist, who completed the assignment in three weeks' time.Before the tribute in oil and canvas was sent on to March, Sr., in Racine, Wisconsin, it was formally unveiled by the star with camera and sound equipment in full blast, with Ray Francis, Juliette Compton, Stuart Erwin and other members of the cast and staff as Honorary guests.MR. G. B. SHAW ON REVOLUTIONS.Inevitably Lead to Reaction.Mr. G. B. Shaw had a rousing reception at Oxford on May 28, when he addressed a crowded meeting of undergraduates at the October Club.
"I must first apologise for my age," he said. "I have always contended that one of the most necessary things in Oxford was an age limit.
I think I should put it at twenty-three. I myself should have no business here, as I am seventy-six, if it were not that I have one advantage over you young men, which is the advantage of experience. But I am not coming the experience stunt on you to-night.
Under Capitalist society a man's experience is likely to be a thing he is worse for: it is sure to have been a melancholy and intimidating one. The whole aim of old men is to perpetuate tradition, and it is largely tradition that has landed this country in the position it is in to-day."You may disregard my experience in every way, except one.
Like you, I have been associatedwith young revolutionaries, and I have been a revolutionist myself.
You have had that experience. That is the meaning of this club. My advantage, however, is that I have seen revolutionists become middle aged, and then old men. Among my old revolutionary friends is Mr.
Ramsay MacDonald. My recollection of Mr. Ramsay MacDonald is a fire-loving revolutionary Socialist. You may ask me, 'are you talking of the gentleman I heard on Empire Day who did not seem to have an idea in his head which he might not have had in the seventeenth century?' I am facing it, but I am talking to young and ardent revolutionists. A certain proportion of you will be living in the year 1980, but many of you will not be revolutionists then. Some of you will not even be revolutionists in 1940."With the exception of Capitalism, there is nothing so revolting as revolution. (Laughter.) Unless you are well prepared for revolution and know what the change means—a certain amount of wreckage and the throwing away of old ideas—the effect of revolution is to make many revolutionists reactionary. Where in this country revolution is underground. Nobody believes in revolution here, but when it comes it will surprise everybody.
When it comes, many in this country will not know a revolution has taken place."Revolutionary movements are a revolt against cruelty, but when the revolt comes and people find that the millennium expected has not come about, they cannot stand it and become reactionary. Revolt means the end of liberty. The thing you are up against is the everyday saying, 'I cannot stand for the abolition of liberty.'"All we in this country conceive to be democratic ideas have gone in Russia. No single breath of tyranny as we know it is missing in Russia. It is carried into effect on a gigantic scale. That is why, when revolution comes, people become reactionary. They are unable to change from negative to positive government. When the revolution does come, many of you will be disgusted at the horror of the new government."Orchestra—

Mr. Hin-shing Lo appeared

Lithuania.The Hague, June 15.
The Court of International Justice to-day resumed the hearing of the case against Lithuania for violation of the Memel Convention in which Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, the signatory powers of the convention, are the plaintiffs.
The Court heard the plea of M.
Zizkauskas, the Lithuanian representative who insisted that Lithuania was fully justified in doing what she did in the Memel Territory, because the Lithuanian Constitution applied to Memel as well as to Lithuania.After the Court had heard evi-adjourned again. Its decision is

Sarazen Makes Golf
History

Even Bobby Jones Could Not Have Done Better

66 BEATS PHIL PERKINS

HUGE CROWD SPELLBOUND AT AMERICAN'S ARTISTRY.

Flushing, L.I., Yesterday.

Gene Sarazen to-day accomplished his life's ambition — to win the American Open and British Open Golf Championships in the same year. This feat has been achieved only on one other occasion — when Bobby Jones won the British and American Opens and the British and Amateur Open Championship in 1930.

A dazzling exhibition of golf in the fourth round gave Sarazen a last minute victory over Phil Perkins, the British professional. The crowd which followed Sarazen from one tee to another remained spell-bound at the accuracy of his driving and putting. Even the great Bobby Jones could not have returned better figures for those last eighteen holes.

The final scores as cabled by Reuter were as follow:—

Gene Sarazen (U.S.A.)	74 + 76 + 70 + 66	286
Phil Perkins (Britain)	78 + 69 + 74 + 70	289
Bobby Cruikshank (U.S.A.)	69 + 68 (last two rounds)	289
Leo Diegel (U.S.A.)	73 + 74 + 73 + 74	294
Willy Cox (U.S.A.)	70 + 72 (last two rounds)	295

Sarazen made a remarkable recovery after returning cards aggregating 150 for the first two rounds, and at the conclusion of the third round was one stroke behind Phil Perkins who led the field with 219. It was then that the crowd saw the true Sarazen fighting for his life's ambition. Dazzling was hardly the word for his golf. The huge gallery which followed him were all on his side, but they could not reveal their amazement at some of the masterly shots that Sarazen displayed.

Forme Success Repeated.

By returning a card for 66 Sarazen repeated his former success on the Fresh Meadow Course when he broke the course record prior to his sailing for England to participate in the British open. His golf on that occasion was superb, but his performance to-day was infinitely better, for it came at a time when it was most needed.

Conservative Golfer.

"Pocket Hercules."

Curiously enough Sarazen is one of those players who is at his best in the spring, but who falls away as the summer months come on. His genius then seems to desert him and he becomes a very mediocre golfer. He plays a powerful game throughout and is a perfect exponent of long iron play. He has during his career been nicknamed the "pocket Hercules."

Figures Compared.

On June 10 Sarazen won the British Open on the Prince's Course, Sandwich, beating Bobby Jones' 1927 record for an aggregate score of 288, two strokes better than those of the world's greatest golfer. His figures for the British Open and the American Open make interesting reading:

British	70+69+70+74=283
American	74+76+70+66=286

PERRY FAVOURITE
AT WIMBLEDON.Shields Leads American Opposition.

Wimbledon, Saturday.
Jack Crawford, the Australian champion, is expected to fill the last vacancy in the quarter finals of the Men's Singles, and thus supply Britain with three hopes in the last eight.

Experts are of the opinion that Britain may again come into her own again this year. Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra, the French hope, have been laid low and only America offers serious opposition. Shields is fancied in many circles, but an all-round vote would favour Perry. The following are the seven players who entered the quarter-finals:

H. W. Austin (Britain).
F. J. Perry (Britain).
E. Vines (U.S.A.).
S. E. Wood (U.S.A.).
F. X. Shields (U.S.A.).
J. Satoh (Japan).
H. Maier (Spain).

London, Saturday.

The Indian XI. concluded the first day of the Test match against England at Lord's in a most satisfactory position. On a good wicket they dismissed the strong England batting side for 259 and when stumps were drawn they were only 229 runs in arrears with all their wickets in hand.

Mahomed Nissar was the hero of the day, for besides dismissing Holmes and Sutcliffe for 11 runs he returned the following excellent figures for the innings:—

Jardine, the English skipper (79) and Leslie Ames (66), the Kent wicket-keeper, were the only two England batsmen to give any confidence to those seated in the Lord's enclosures.

WILLS' GOLD FLAKE VIRGINIA CIGARETTES

Nanking Replies To Japan's Protest

Impasse Over Manchukuo Customs Revenue

Sir. F. Maze's Statement

Nanking, Yesterday. It is understood that the Foreign Office has already replied to the Japanese protest over the dismissal of Mr. Fukumoto, the Dairen Customs Commissioner, the communication being handed to the Japanese Consul here last night.

The terms of the letter have not yet been divulged. Reuter.

Will Remit to Manchukuo. Dairen, Yesterday. Following an order from the Manchukuo Government, the customs revenue which the bank is holding, pending a settlement of the dispute, will be remitted to the Manchukuo Government to-morrow. Reuter.

Dismissal Was Legal. Shanghai, Yesterday.

Sir Frederick Maze, Inspector General of the Chinese Maritime Customs, issued a reply this afternoon with reference to the reported declaration of the Japanese Government that the recent dismissal of Mr. Fukumoto, Commissioner of Customs at Dairen, was contrary to Article 3 of the 1907 Dairen Agreement.

Sir Frederick Maze stated that the action of the Customs authorities in dismissing Mr. Fukumoto did not contravene the agreement and did not necessitate a consultation with the Kwantung Government.

He quoted the first three articles of the agreement. The first says the Inspector General will come to an understanding with the Japanese Legation at Peking in cases of appointing a new commissioner, the second that staff members of the Maritime Customs be Japanese with the exception of a suddenly occurring vacancy, or temporary requirements in the service, when other nationalities may provisionally be sent to Dairen, and the third declares that the Inspector-General will inform the Governor-General of the leased territory beforehand about the change.

Sir Frederick Maze points out that prior to effecting the provisions of Article 3, it was first necessary to execute the provisions of Article 1. He said that Mr. Fukumoto's successor had been duly nominated and when the Legation authorities concurred with the nomination, the Governor-General of the leased territory would be informed.

He concluded by saying that Mr. Fukumoto's insubordination was without parallel in the annals of the Customs Service. Reuter.

General Honjo's Air Survey.

Harbin, Yesterday. General Honjo, Commander-in-Chief of the Japanese forces in Manchuria, has returned to Mukden after making flights over most of the war areas in North Manchuria, including one in the direction of Tabeih, in which area General Ma Chan-shan is operating.

It is fully expected here that the Manchukuo will take over both the Customs-stations and the Post by July 1, if their arrangements Offices by August 1, and probably are completed in time. Reuter.

Hsinling, Yesterday. In spite of the prevailing stringent attitude of the Nanking Government regarding the Dairen Customs, it was reported to-day from Japanese sources, that the Manchukuo's policy remains unchanged and the Chief of the Bureau of Taxation of the Finance Ministry, Mr. Matsuzo Genda, hurriedly left for Dairen to-day.

In this connection, it is reported that the Manchukuo Government is adamant, and in the event of failure to take over the Dairen Customs, it is prepared to establish one in the leased territory as a final measure. The place selected for such a Manchukuo Customs has already been placed, namely, at Wafangdian, and the necessary regulations have been completed in connection with a new Customs Building with a sum of 20,000,000. Reuter.

Manchukuo Takes Over Customs.

Dairen, Saturday. The Manchukuo has started to take over all the Customs in Manchuria except Dairen.

Owing to Mr. Fukumoto's dismissal all the Japanese officials of the Dairen Customs have decided to tender their resignations.

Not Manchukuo Instructions. Emphasizing that his action in refraining from remitting the Customs revenue to Shanghai was not taken under instructions from Manchukuo, Mr. Fukumoto, in a statement regarding his dismissal, explained that dual collection of customs would have been inevitable, and leading to serious international complications, if the revenue had been remitted to Shanghai, and it was for the purpose precluding the possibility of such a situation that he took what he considered to be the best step. Reuter.

Japanese Resign.

Dairen, Yesterday. All of the Japanese officials of the Customs have resigned, and in a statement declare it is their intention to work for the autonomy of the Manchukuo Customs, owing to Nanking's refusal to heed Mr. Fukumoto's attempt to reach an amicable agreement between Nanking and the Manchukuo Government. Reuter.

"EGYPT" TREASURE DISPUTE.

£187,000 Bullion Cargo "Arrested."

TUG CAPTAIN'S CLAIM.

London, Yesterday. There was a dramatic development in the salvage of the sunken Egypt's treasure, when the Italian salvage-ship Artiglio, which after many vain attempts, succeeded in reaching the vessel last week arrived at Plymouth with gold and silver from the Egypt, valued at £187,000.

The cargo was "arrested" and the holds sealed up, under instructions from the Admiralty Marshal. It is understood that the action is sequel to a claim filed by Captain Jean Davy, formerly captain of the Brex tug, Iroise, for a share in the gold, on the grounds that he was the first to locate the wreck. Reuter.

DARING BURGLARY IN CITY.

Locks Sawed Off Door of Shop.

STOCK WORTH $2,678 STOLEN

A daring burglary right in the heart of the City, occurred on Friday night in the shop of B. S. Heera, on the ground floor of 45, Queen's Road Central.

The proprietor got the first inkling of the affair when he went to open his shop at 8.30 on Saturday morning, and found the gate and door ajar, the locks having been sawn off both.

Inside, the shop was in considerable disorder the stock being strewn all over the place. The burglar had apparently inspected the goods at his leisure and helped himself to booty which Mr. Heera valued at $2,678.50.

This included suits of pyjamas, lengths of cloth and a number of cigarette lighters. A sum of money was stolen from the shop till which had been forced open and emptied of its contents.

According to Mr. Heera, he closed up the shop at 8.30 on Friday night and, as is his custom, he personally supervised the locking of the door and gate, and satisfied himself that his shop was securely closed before returning to his home for the night. The burglar was a daring man for that section of Queen's Road is usually well-lighted throughout the night, and is on the regular Police beat. He managed to remain concealed and escape the notice of the Police while engaged in sawing off the locks.

Court Sequel.

There was a sequel to the robbery when two Chinese men, Lo Wah So and Chau Yim Kee, both unemployed were brought before Mr. Wynne-Jones in the Central Police Court this morning, the first man being charged on two counts of larceny, while the second faced charges of unlawful receiving of stolen property.

First accused pleaded guilty to both charges. Mr. T. P. K. Kenble appeared for the second accused and asked for a remand and bail.

Inspector John Murphy, for the prosecution, stated that he had been instructed to say that the Police would probably ask his Worship to commit the first accused for trial at the Criminal Sessions. He suggested bail in the sum of $500 for the second man.

His Worship adjourned the case for a week. Remarking that he thought $500 bail was too heavy, his Worship reduced the sum to $250.

The fans, 22 in all, were installed by Messrs. William C. Jack & Co., Ltd., at a cost of approximately $1,500.

U.S.A. And England Exchange Cordial Messages

A European Federation?

Britain Favours Scheme Mooted By Germany

London, Yesterday. The British reception of President Hoover's proposals in connection with the Disarmament Conference has occasioned the exchange of cordial messages between Mr. H. L. Stimson, Secretary of State, and Sir John Simon.

The former expressed his earnest thanks for the spirit of sympathetic consideration in which Sir John Simon discussed the proposals, and trusted that the Anglo-American delegations would be able to work jointly to contribute to their fulfilment.

Mr. Stimson said: "I wish to thank you most earnestly for the spirit of sympathetic consideration in which you have discussed the President's proposals, and I trust that our two delegations will be able jointly to contribute to their fulfilment. My appreciation is all the greater in view of the shortness of time in which circumstances have necessitated your consideration of these most important questions."

Sir John Simon in reply reciprocated the wish for continued Anglo-American co-operation, and said, "I am delighted to receive your cordial message, which I am communicating to my colleagues. The spirit and purpose of President Hoover's declaration are deeply appreciated in Britain, and we shall do our utmost, by seeking the largest possible measure of agreement amongst all states represented at the Disarmament Conference, to promote the acceptance of concrete proposals covering the whole field." Reuter and British Wireless.

Lausanne Scheme.

Lausanne, Yesterday. The gigantic scheme for a European Federation, the idea of which was recently mooted by Herr Von Bulow, is likely to hold the centre of the stage next week.

NEW CLINIC AT TSUN WAN.

Sir William Hornell Performs Opening Ceremony.

QUOTES FRENCH PROVERB.

At Tsun Wan yesterday afternoon, Sir William Hornell formally opened a new clinic and maternity home to cater for the natives of that district, thus marking another step towards the attainment of a sufficiency of medical aid and treatment in the New Territories. The new clinic is under the auspices of the New Territories Benevolent Society.

Among those present at the ceremony were Col. and Mrs. Myles, the Hon. Mr. T. N. Chau, Mr. Kwok Siu-lau, Dr. F. T. Tseng, Hon. Secretary and Treasurer of the Society, Dr. Arthur Wop, and Dr. Lo Ming-sun.

The clinic comprises for the present a large bungalow the use of which is given free to the Society for five years by Mr. Kan Hung-chiu. Dr. Lo Ming-sun is the resident doctor, and he was given a busy time yesterday, when, immediately after the opening many patients claimed treatment.

Sir William Hornell was welcomed by Dr. Tseng, who made speeches in both English and Chinese.

Sir William expressed the hope that the new clinic will prove a blessing to the people of the New Territories, and quoting the French proverb "He who lacks health lacks everything," said that his was all must, that is the lot of mortals and we bow to it; but the appalling waste of energy and life due to diseases which are perfectly preventable, these are things intolerable—things that we have no business to accept as the inevitable. Afterward Sir William was handed a golden key with which he opened the clinic following which there was an inspection of the building. The new clinic was served.

It is understood that M. Herriot and Herr Von Papen dealt with the scheme in yesterday's discussions, and that Mr. Ramsay MacDonald expressed himself in favour of such a development.

The Italian delegation to-day plumed for the cancellation of war debts and reparations. Reuter.

Franco-German Talks.

London, Saturday. The conversations at Lausanne between the French Prime Minister M. Herriot, and the German Chancellor, Herr Von Papen, for which the ground had been prepared by Mr. Ramsay MacDonald's negotiations yesterday with M. Herriot, began as arranged this morning.

The two statesmen were alone during the early part of the interview and the later conversations were continued with their ministerial colleagues and experts in attendance.

A Communique later issued stated that after the German Finance Minister, Herr Von Krosigk, had presented a detailed statement of the economic and financial position of Germany the meeting adjourned. The conversations were resumed this evening.

Hoover Plan.

The Foreign Secretary, Sir John Simon, attended a meeting at the House of Commons, when it is understood President Hoover's disarmament proposals were under consideration.

On his return to Geneva Sir John Simon will enter upon consultations with the French and United States delegates.

The French War Minister, M. Paul Boncour, is at present in Paris consulting his colleagues, but both the Ministers will return to Geneva during the week-end and a Conference will take place on Monday. British Wireless Service.

CHINESE WEDDING IN ENGLAND.

The Word "Obey" Omitted.

MA—TO.

London, June 18. Scenes of Oriental splendour marked the wedding of two socially prominent Chinese to-day in the Church of St. Martin-in-the-Fields. The bride was Miss Rebecca To and the groom, Mr. Shiu Hong Ma, manager of Sincere Co. (London) Ltd., the London branch of the world-wide known organisation of this Chinese enterprise.

Mr. Ma has been Sincere's London Manager since his arrival in 1929, while Miss To arrived several weeks ago. Their engagement was celebrated in Hong Kong prior to Mr. Ma sailing for England.

Hundreds of Chinese attended the Church ceremony, and the Police were forced to hold back large crowds of interested Londoners, which sight recalled to their mind similar scenes of gate-crashing during the christening of the Chinese Baby at St. Paul's Cathedral, whose father was the predecessor of the present groom as Sincere's London Manager. The Anglican service was used but the word "obey" was omitted.

Two receptions were held, one in English style and the other was a Chinese dinner. The guests included H.E. the Chinese Minister, Dr. and Mrs. Young, The Chinese Consul-General, Sir Robert and Lady Ho Tung, Sir Albert and Lady Spicer, Sir Dennison and Lady Bois, as well as many other important members of the financial and business community representatives of various Foreign Consulates in London also attended. The honeymoon will be spent in the Scandinavian mountains, Norway and Sweden.

CHINA'S SLOW PROGRESS TO MODERNISATION

COMPARISON WITH JAPAN'S PROGRESS

EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW WITH SIR HARI SINGH GOUR.

That China is lagging behind her neighbours, and will find herself in difficulties unless prompt steps are taken to improve her status was the opinion expressed by Sir Hari Singh Gour during an interview with the "China Mail" on Saturday.

He predicted a great future for Manchuria under Japanese Guidance and said that with the necessary security that could be guaranteed by Japan, Manchuria might become the greatest wealth producing country in the East.

Sir Hari drew some interesting comparisons between China and Japan during the interview, and graphically described the advancement of industry in the Island Empire, where he has been making a tour and delivering a series of lectures at the request of the Japanese educational group.

He commented on China's slow progress into the realms of modernism, and the reluctance of Chinese to desert the lingering faith of the past.

Prominent in Indian political circles, Sir Hari is the leader of the Indian Nationalist Party and Chairman of the Indian Legislative Assembly. Now 60 years old, his appearance belies his age, for he still retains his virile manner and faultless delivery.

He arrived in Hong Kong on the Dollar liner, s.s. President Polk yesterday, and will leave by the same ship to-day, accompanied by his daughter Ruby.

Giving the impressions he gained during his trip through China, Manchuria, Korea and Japan, Sir Hari said:

"I found that the industries of Japan are on a perfectly sound footing, and that every industry has been rationalised."

"The textile industry there is beyond the world's competition, for it has been rationalised to such an extent that no single country could possibly hope to compete with her."

Ideal Hygiene.

"I went there primarily to study the labour problem and the sanitary conditions, and to see if they came up to the standard of what they should be according to the Washington Convention. The conditions were perfect, ideal hygiene was to be seen everywhere."

"I paid surprise visits to many places to study those particular surroundings, and everywhere I found the same thing—perfect cleanliness and ideal hygiene."

"One of the greatest factors of the country is the free and compulsory education. From the age of six years onwards, the children are taught the three great lessons—love of their country, to develop industry, and to add to its resources, in other words, to make great Japan greater."

"Every school child wears a uniform, from the day they enter the primary school until they finish the University curriculum, which might be between the age of 10 to 20 years, when they are drafted to compulsory conscription. The nation teaches them discipline, and with the growth of discipline, the nation increases in efficiency."

Lack of Beggars.

"I visited many temples and shrines in Tokyo and other places of national worship, including Nikko, Nara, and Kyoto, and I found not a single beggar, and it was a pleasant surprise to find the same courtesy and reserve among all classes, from the highest to the lowest."

"As my idea was known by practically all with whom I came in contact, I was entertained at a great number of receptions everywhere, the attendance growing larger and larger on each occasion, culminating in Tokyo where in the Hibia City Hall, the largest building in Japan, which has a capacity for 10,000 people, the hall was filled to its utmost limits. During my many lectures, if I was supposed to speak for one hour, and I curtailed the time to 45 minutes, a polite message was invariably sent to the Chairman asking him to persuade me to talk for a further 15 minutes, until the full hour had gone."

"The lectures were published in all the papers, and also broadcasted, and are to be put into book form, combining the lectures of my whole tour."

Manchuria and Korea.

"From Japan I went to Manchuria and Korea, to study social and political conditions. As I received from the harbour in the Japanese Empire, I found that the medievalism still lingered, and was reflected in the social and political institutions of Manchuria and Korea."

"The fact is, that whilst Japan is thoroughly convinced in the future of westernisation, Korea and Manchuria, and even to a larger extent, China, still retain a lingering faith in the past, and seem to think that the modernisation of Japan is merely eye-wash, that her soul is not touched, and that no international institution has transformed so as to bring her into line with any country of the West."

Future of China.

"In Peking I made myself thoroughly conversant with all classes, from the highest official to the lowliest coolie."

"I was entertained by the Rotary Club at a luncheon, and afterwards we had a free discussion as to the past and future of China. My impression then formed and since then strengthened, is that China will have to make a long levy to come into line with any western nation."

"I was shown the Imperial Library and several of the University buildings as a token of her earnestness in modern public life. There has, no doubt, been some changes, but it is incommensurable with what is required, in this age of aeroplanes and wireless telegraphy."

"I fear China is lagging behind their neighbours, and will find herself becoming helpless in the near future unless prompt steps are taken to fall in line with Japan."

"I even gave that opinion to several prominent Chinese officials."

The Soul of China.

"I was invited to visit Nanking and other important centres of China, but I knew the soul of the people was to be found in the ancient capital, Peking, and that all the intelligent gathered there in spite of the concentration in the new capital. Intelligent life is still centred in Peking."

"In Manchuria I saw some signs of progress, and further considerable progress should be made under Japanese guidance. I saw some traces of the vast undeveloped wealth, and I am sure that with the proper guaranteed assurance given to the investor of the security he needs, the country will soon become the largest wealth-producing country in the East."

Japan and Depression.

"Japan was, at the moment of my visit, suffering from the effects of the world depression, and in my speech at the Central Hall of the Chamber of Commerce at Osaka, I prophesied a parlous situation which their yen was to suffer in the near future."

"A glance at the Stock Exchange reports to-day, will show, to what extent that forecast was justified."

"Japan wants more, cheap money for the development of her industries. She is in a deadly contest about her development, but she must attract more capital than

JEWELS AT COURT.

An abiding impression of the first Court was its jewelled brilliance. I was told by a woman who had been to Court four times before that she never had seen so many jewels. All the men wore the regulation mourning bands on their arms, but my friend said she saw only four black gowns. The Queen herself wore an embroidered gown of silver and gold with a wonderful silver train. "She is emphatically the outstanding figure at Court," this woman said, "especially when she leads the procession from the Throne Room. She is so good-looking, so graceful with her bows to right and left—so truly regal."

CHINESE CUSTOMS OFFICER INJURED ENGLISHMAN ON BOARD ESCAPES UNHURT

DRIFTING LAUNCH DRAWS HEAVY FIRE NEAR FORT

A Chinese Customs officer was seriously wounded when a Canton Customs launch was fired on by pirates on Thursday. The launch was under the command of Mr. Harrison, an Englishman, who was unhurt by the bullets which rained on the launch.

The report of the affray did not reach Hong Kong until yesterday, and it is reported that the injured man, whose name is understood to be Chan Wan-chiu, is out of danger. He is at present in Canton Hospital.

The vessel, through a defect in the engine, became temporarily out of control and drifted near the shore near Macao Fort. As it neared a village just below the fort, a fusillade of rifle-shots broke out as pirates launched an attack on the ship. The crew took for cover, but not before Mr. Chan was hit. Others of the crew and passengers experienced narrow escapes, the bad marksmanship of the attackers lessening the toll.

Efforts to repair the break in the engine were redoubled and just as the vessel had drifted out of range the defect was remedied. The launch steamed back to Canton to rush the injured man to Hospital.

The motive of the attack is unknown but is attributed to fear by the villagers that a Customs raid was to be intended on the village. Officials also take the view that a gang of pirates saw an opportunity to raid a disabled craft.

Latest last night a report was received that the vessel may have been one of the Canton ferries. No confirmation could be secured of this report but it is definitely established that the injured man was an official of the Chinese Customs.

FIVE START ON PERILOUS CRUISE.

Cutter Trip to England.

AUSTRALIAN VENTURE.

The small cutter, Gullmarn has left Sydney on a voyage to England. Her crew of five includes three women. Mrs. G. Hentley Metcalfe is in command of the cutter, which will be navigated by Mr. H. P. Nicholson, of Adelaide.
Mrs. Metcalfe is a daughter of Mr.
Justice Beeby, and one of the other ladies is Miss I. Saxby, of Norwood, Sydney.

The Gullmarn calls at Newcastle and will then proceed to Brisbane. Townsville, Cairns, and Cooktown, whence she will make for Samarai. The course will then take her along the north coast of Borneo to Singapore, down the coast of Sumatra, through the Strait of Sunda, and across to Cocos Island. In the Indian Ocean Rodriguez Island will be visited, and the party will then make for Mauritius, to Durban and Capetown. The route to England will then be via St.
Helena, Ascension Island, Sierra Leone, Cape Islands and Madeira.
The trip is being undertaken in the spirit of adventure and a desire to see the world, and also to obtain a written and photographic record of the voyage. Mrs.
Metcalfe and Miss Saxby are both graduates of Sydney University, and Mr. Metcalfe is a prominent Sydney yachting man.

To the Gullmarn is attached quite a romance, as, after 20 years work in the Swedish Pilot Service, it was sailed out from Sweden to Sydney six months ago by Messrs. Johansson and Benson. It is 35 feet long, with a beam of 14 feet, and a draft of six feet, and it has an auxiliary engine, a 25 h.p. Elto Quad outboard for emergencies. Supplies of Plume motor spirit and Mobil-oil are being carried for this engine. The boat is fully equipped for the long voyage, and has a cabin with sleeping accommodation for five or six.

Both Mrs. Metcalfe and Miss Saxby are becoming capable seamen and are full of enthusiasm, and are confident that the trip will be a success.

SERIOUS CHOLERA OUTBREAK IN CANTON

Over 100 Deaths A Day
Estimated

The cholera outbreak at Canton, is assuming alarming proportions and the authorities are greatly concerned with the possibility of the epidemic spreading to Hong Kong.

Owing to the conditions in Canton it is impossible to judge the number of cases, but it is reliably estimated that the death-roll is over 100 a day.

The foreign community are observing every precaution, particularly regarding food and water. Vegetables and fruit are washed very carefully.

It is reported that the City

World Famous Dancer Praises Hong Kong

Beth Beri Pays Tribute To Britishers

THE FUTURE OF BALLET

Hong Kong has captured the heart of Miss Beth Beri, the famous American dancer, and one of the most accomplished modernistic dancers in the world, formerly of the Ziegfeld Follies.

"I am enjoying my visit here immensely, and I think Hong Kong is a most gorgeous place, and one of the prettiest places I have seen," she said.

Miss Beri who is making a tour of the Orient has never been in the Colony before, describes China as entrancing.

Whilst in Shanghai she saw much of the sordid side of life, for she was there during the Sino-Japanese trouble, and helped to nurse the wounded Chinese soldiers.

"I never tire of travelling," she said, "and my philosophy is that to stay in one place until the glamour has worn away is to get stagnant."

During an exclusive interview with the China Mail, she declared that Englishmen were the best dancers in the world, once they had mastered the art, and added that Anton Dolin, who in spite of his name was an Irishman, was the finest male classical dancer in the world, and the nearest approach to Serge Lifarn, the celebrated "master."

A charming blonde, with sparkling blue eyes and a quick repartee, Miss Beri, has the enviable asset of putting one at ease immediately, and has all the American views on hospitality. But this is only a fraction of her charms. She has proved herself one of the most accomplished dancers on the stage to-day.

"If you ask me why I came to China, it would be difficult to answer," she smiled. "I think it was really to broaden my mind. Whilst I am here I mean to get money and to spend it."

"Money, like everything else, becomes stagnant if it is kept too long, and here you have so many interesting things to buy."

Hong Kong Charming.

"I have never been to Hong Kong before, but I think it is a most delightful place. When I arrived I did not care much about it, but it grows on me very quickly."

"Since coming to China I have not encountered any of those adventures as are so vividly depicted in the popular magazines and the Fu Manchu novels, but I find it full of new experiences."

Reverting to the topic which she can discuss so well and is so great an authority, Miss Beri was enthusiastic in her praises of Englishmen as dancers, and drew some interesting comparisons between the American and English styles.

"Jack Buchanan, the well-known British stage artist and cinema star, is the best ball-room dancer I have met. He has a wonderful style, which seems to have been faithfully reproduced in many other Englishmen. Once a Britisher masters the art of dancing, he acquires good style, and a good British dancer is the best in the world."

"They have a tendency to glide and take long steps which is so infinitely preferable to the jumpy, jazy motion that is adopted by many so-called dancers."

"The secret lies in the fact that the Englishman has a great sense of rhythm, while the American develops a sense of syncopation. The Americans are very original, but their motions are too jumpy."

"Probably the finest male dancer in the world is Anton Dolin, whom I believe, is an Irishman. He ranks with the world famous Serge Lifarn."

Ballet Revival.

"England is showing too, a great interest in the ballet, which is now considered to be on the decline. Russia were the greatest sponsors of ballet until the death of Diaghilev, who was considered to have the finest knowledge of the art."

"Significance in the future of dancing has been shown recently by the conversion of Max Reinhardt, the famous German playwright, who is now turning his interests from drama to dancing. There is scarcely a single show or revival on the stage to-day where dancing does not occupy a considerable part," said Miss Beri in reply to the question, "What stage dancing on the Continent?"

Miss Beri, whose natural abilities find an outlet in the interpretation of modernistic dances, is a great admirer of the Spanish composers, in particular Albeniz, Granadas and De Falla.

Inspired by Circus.

Asked why she chose dancing as a career, Miss Beri laughingly replied that she did not know.

"I started very young," she replied, "but I cannot say what fired my enthusiasm in this direction. Ever since I was four years of age, and was taken to a circus where I saw a lady balancing on the back of a horse, I was fired with the ambition to do the same. When I got home I tried to balance in a similar manner on a chair, and I really commenced to dance about a year after."

"My stage career commenced at the age of 13 and I have now been dancing in public for 12 years."

Nurse in Shanghai.

Three years ago, Miss Beri made a tour of Europe visiting Italy, France and Belgium, and in 1925 she was in England, appearing at the Coliseum. When she leaves Hong Kong she will visit Manila and later go to Siam, where she will appear before royalty.

She has been for some considerable time in Shanghai, and during the outbreak of trouble there helped to nurse the Chinese soldiers in the Hospitals.

While in Hong Kong, Miss Beri will appear at the King's Theatre for one week, commencing to-day. In her favourite number, the Fan Dance, she exhibits the largest fan in the world, a gorgeous creation of ostrich feathers.

"PIONEER MEAL"

A quarter of a million Chicago families are eating one "pioneer meal" a week for ten weeks to aid the relief of 400,000 hungry and destitute neighbours, according to a B.U.P. message.

A "pioneer meal" costs 1s. 7½d instead of the usual 9s or so for meals in wealthier Chicago homes, and the difference is being handed to the joint emergency relief fund.

Society women and wives of millionaires are cooking these "pioneer meals."

This is a sample menu of one:— Spanish rice, apple and carrot salad, butterscotch pudding, coffee.

The 9s dinner to be sacrificed once a week is on these lines:— Shrimp, cocktail, lamb chops and potatoes and broccoli with Hollandaise sauce, rolls and butter, celery and carrot salad, chocolate cream pie, whipped cream and coffee.

ABYSSINIAN INSURRECTION.

Paris, June 18.

According to a dispatch from Djibouti published by Le Temps, the insurrection against the Abyssinian Emperor, led by the former king of Abyssinia, Lei Yassu, has completely broken down. Lei Yassu who after having been interned for 16 years recently escaped from a monastery, disguised as a woman, has been recaptured by agents of the Emperor who had put a large price on the head of his antagonist.

SOLDIERS' DRINKING ORGY.

Kowloon Golf Club
Raided.

THIRD SERIOUS CASE IN TWO DAYS

Window Smashing Incident.

An outbreak of acts of hooliganism committed by soldiers of the local garrison has occurred during the past few days.

Simultaneously with the incident which occurred in Hankow Road on Saturday, when five Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, under the influence of liquor, smashed a shop window and a glass door and assaulted two civilians, another incident was being enacted in the Kowloon Golf Club premises.

According to the bar boy at the Club, Private Clogg and Private A. Shorthouse, both of the South Wales Borderers came to the Club House, walked in, and started to help themselves to drink. The "boy" attempted to telephone for assistance, but was kicked out.

He finally managed to get to the telephone when the two men had drunk themselves into a stupor, and called the Police who came to the Club and arrested them. They are now detained in military custody and have been charged with larceny and will appear in the Kowloon Magistracy to-day.

During their orgy, the soldiers drank 21 bottles of beer, four glasses of whisky, two bottles of orange squash, in addition helping themselves to four bars of chocolate, 12 packets of cigarettes and a number of cigars.

Window Smashing.

The Hankow Road affair was even more serious. Five privates of the Argylls, W. MacFerson, R. Keenan, J. Stirling, D. MacNab and J. MacCulloch caused damage to shop windows approximately $250.

One of the men smashed the glass door of Messrs. Windsor's jewellers' shop with a whisky bottle, but no attempt was made to steal any goods. The party then wantonly kicked in the plate glass window of D. L. Savalan's tailoring establishment and took a kimono from the window.

On an alarm being raised the soldiers ran towards the Palace Hotel, pursued by several people who witnessed the affair. Two men, who tried to apprehend the men were roughly handled but not seriously hurt. They were Mr. W. V. Field and Mr. W. D. Souza, both of whom reside at Savarin House boarding establishment.

The soldiers were later arrested and handed over to the military authorities, with whom they are still detained. No police charge has yet been laid.

The kimono which was valued at $8 was torn to pieces.

Snatched Five Watches.

Another Argyll private named Andrew Young, was charged at the Kowloon Magistracy on Friday last, with the theft of five wrist watches, which he is alleged to have snatched from a jeweller's shop in Haiphong Road.

The case was adjourned.

NO CHANGE IN SERVICE TIMES.

St. Andrew's Church Council Decision.

VICAR'S ANNOUNCEMENT.

It was announced by the Vicar (the Rev. W. Walton Rogers, M.A.) in St. Andrew's Church, Kowloon, at both morning and evening services yesterday, that the Church Council had considered that any change in the times of the services for the present, would be inadvisable.

A special sub-committee, under the chairmanship of Mr. J. H. Hunt, O.B.E., had been drawn up to consider general changes in the services. On June 19, after Matins, a report was presented to a meeting of the congregation, the Vicar being in the chair.

Various views were expressed and suggestions recorded, among which was a proposal that the time of the evening service be altered to 6.30 p.m.

At a meeting of the Church Council held during the week, the whole matter was fully discussed. Views, naturally, were very controversial and the decision reached was that the times of the services—11 a.m. and 6 p.m.—should remain.

Stowaway Who Became Vaudeville Star

Romance Of Long Tack Sam

$500,000 LOST IN AMERICAN BANK CRASH.

Some interesting reminiscences were revealed by Mr. Long Tack Sam, the famous Chinese illusionist, during an interview with the "China Mail" on Saturday.

Mr. Long, who started his stage career at the age of 13 years, has since travelled all over the world, and has been in the show business for 36 years.

Stowing away from Hong Kong 36 years ago, Mr. Long Tack Sam little knew that he was embarking on his greatest adventure, and the commencement of a career that was to bring him fame and fortune.

"I was discovered before the boat had proceeded very far, and had to turn to work, which to-day would make me shiver. As soon as the boat reached London, I started to look for theatrical work, and peddled the theatres in hopes of getting a job," he said.

His First Contract.

"I could not speak English, and had to go by signs. One manager, on seeing what I could do in the way of entertaining, held up five fingers, and I shook my head, thinking, he meant five dollar per week salary. Another held up 14 fingers, and I accepted, and was pleasantly surprised when I discovered he meant £14 and not dollars."

"In those days that was big money for me and I stayed there six years."

"Although my particular line in the profession is not badly hit by the depression, many members of vaudeville are working for greatly reduced salaries, and I find there is little to compare with the old days in England."

"My first appearance in London was at the old Victorian Theatre, just outside Victoria Station. After six years in London I toured Russia and Germany, and then went back to England again."

A Lost Fortune.

"In 1910 I opened a Chinese restaurant there at No. 6, Glasshouse, but it was chiefly so that I could have Chinese prepared food. It is still going strong to-day, but does not pay."

"Since then I have played all over the world, many times on the Continent, four times in Australia and twice in New Zealand. I am extremely fond of both the latter places, but I cannot say that I like America."

"I lost half a million dollars there in a bank crash in 1930, so I have little to thank America for."

"After that little setback I again went to Australia and Europe to recuperate my finances."

Asked why he had never taken to the films, Mr. Long he did not want to do his countrymen an injustice.

Unofficial Ambassador.

"A Chinese who takes to the films, must either appear as a cook, laundry-man, or a villain of the underworld, just as a Greek must be a shoe-black, and an Italian an organ grinder or an ice-cream merchant."

"This attitude fosters a wrong impression of the Chinese, and if I cannot do my country any good, I don't want them to curse me for leading myself to the promotion of wrong ideas."

Mr. Long is known in China as the "unofficial ambassador" and did good work in Australia in raising funds for the relief of the Hankow flood victims recently, when he persuaded a number of other artists to give a charity performance in Sydney, raising more than £800.

A Dangerous Act.

Although Mr. Long's speciality on the stage is illusions, he was a great reputation as an "acrobat." He relates an amusing incident that occurred while he was doing a dangerous act known as the "Slide for Life." This consisted of standing on his head on a thin trapeze wire, and sliding thus from the gallery to the stage with his arms outstretched. He was in Cork at the time, in 1907, and he told the slide carrying the Union Jack in one hand and the Chinese flag in the other. Immediately after the act, the audience burst into a storm of booing, and the manager rushed on to the stage and dragged him into the wings. It later transpired that the Union Jack was the cause of the trouble.

Doing the same trick at the Olympia in Paris, the wire broke out precipitated Mr. Long into the orchestra pit, nearly killing the conductor, and breaking Mr. Long's leg in several places. The unfortunate musician claimed damages, and since then the act has been cut off the programme.

This is Mr. Long's third visit to Hong Kong, the last time he was here being in 1928.

Wife of P.W.D. Official Bitten Twice.

KOWLOON TONG INCIDENT.

Mrs. Rose, the wife of Mr. H. H. Rose, of the P.W.D., residing at 8, Somerset Road, was the victim of a vicious dog attack in Kowloon Tong, yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Rose, at the time of the attack, had the charge of her baby daughter, Dawn, who happily was unhurt.

Mrs. Rose was on a visit, with her husband, to Mr. W. Saenger, of Kent Road, Kowloon Tong, to tea, when the dog, a white pointer, sprang at her, biting her in the leg. Mrs. Rose warded the animal off from her child and was bitten a second time. The dog had to be beaten off.

The victim was treated at the Kowloon Hospital, while the dog has been sent to Ma Tau Kok for observation.

EMBEZZLEMENT FROM GANDE PRICE.

Japanese Now Held in Custody.

$20,000 INVOLVED.

On arrival on Saturday morning of the C.P.S. liner, Empress of Japan, from Shanghai, the Police boarded her and took into custody a Japanese man, named M. Tani (28), for whose arrest a warrant had been issued over a month ago.

Until his arrest, Tani is stated to have been living on his own money. Tani was taken to the Central Detective Office, where he was interrogated in connection with charges of the embezzlement of $20,000 from Messrs. Gande, Price & Co., local wine merchants, and uttering of a forged document. He is alleged to have received the money on behalf of Messrs. Gande, Price.

Tani is at present in Police custody, and will make a formal appearance before a Magistrate in the Central Police Court on Saturday morning.

Meanwhile further investigations are being made.

SIAM KING RETURNS.

Great Ovation in Bangkok.

ROYAL HOSTAGES STILL HELD.

H.M. Heads Constitutional Government.

WILL ACT AS LONG AS HEALTH PERMITS.

Bangkok, To-day.

A great ovation was accorded His Majesty, the King of Siam, upon his return to-day to the capital from Huahin, the sea-side resort, where he was holidaying when the revolution broke out.

Members of the Royal family who were imprisoned as hostages at the time of the upheaval are being held until the new Constitutional Government starts to function.—Reuter.

Terms Accepted.

Washington, Yesterday.

An official message from Bangkok states that the King has accepted the Provisional Government's terms and becomes Head of the Constitutional Monarchy.

Bangkok, Yesterday.

Telegraphing from Huahin the King says he had long recognised the desirability of a change and he is willing to act at the head of the new administration as long as his health permits.

Leaders of the People's Party object to the word revolution. They declare they are establishing a government by and for the people with the King's consent.

The Commander-in-Chief of the Army, who showed resistance, was shot.

The revolution came as a complete surprise to Bangkok, where even the names of the leaders are unknown. At the time of the revolution the King was at Huahin, a seaside resort. Many of the Army and Navy Officers recently joined a newly-formed "People's Party."

The rebels announced that they are forming a Constitutional Monarchy, and selecting the King as the first head thereof.

It is expected that the King, who recently opened the Bangkok Memorial Bridge and fiftieth anniversary of his dynasty, will return to Bangkok forthwith.—Reuter.

for the final Eucharistic Congress celebrations on Sunday.

Carriage windows were smashed, pilgrims were allegedly beaten, kicked and pelted with stones and bottles, several women were thrown down, hats were pulled from heads and umbrellas broken.

A number of girl pilgrims became hysterical and wept, others knelt down in prayer.

At the train drew out of the station, a barrage of stones, crashed through the windows, and the corridors were littered with broken glass.—Reuter.

BANGKOK—HONG KONG FLIGHT.

"Great Possibilities for Air-Mail Route."

SIAMESE FLYER'S OPINION.

"There are great possibilities for the establishment of an air-mail route between Bangkok and Hong Kong," said Luan Phongsobhon, the young Siamese aviator, who arrived here from Bangkok yesterday. "There is money to be made in the project," he added.

Seen by a China Mail reporter this morning the flyer said the trip was purely a goodwill flight, and he hoped to establish many friendships among the Chinese in Canton, his destination. Mr. Phongsobhon's flight was financed by the Samukkey China-Siam Club (China-Siam Union Club) and he estimates that the trip will cost about 2,000 ticals, excluding the cost of the machine.

The flyer expects to leave for Canton on Wednesday, and after his stay there he will proceed back to Bangkok via Taipei, Hanoi, Vinh, and Thakhek. He then anticipates making a trip to Java in the same machine, if he can secure a backing.

He declined to express any opinion on the present political situation in Siam, but said things were normal when he left and there were no signs that the present situation would arise.

The Flight.

Mr. Phongsobhon left Bangkok on June 19 and was forced down after four hours of flying. He took off again the next day, and reached Thakhek. He made several futile attempts to surmount the Annamitic Range, but was finally forced to make a detour. On Friday last, he set out from Hanoi for Monca, and the bad weather condition still followed him. At Loung Moum he mistakenly landed with the help of 20 coolies. His next destination was Fort Bayard. He left there yesterday morning and arrived in Hong Kong at 2.30 p.m.

The machine is a Curtiss with an engine developing 90 h.p., giving it a cruising speed of 70 m.p.h.
